Customer Reviews

In a world where vanity is the celebrated trend for a burgeoning generation of kids, teenagers, and young adults, this book, Beauty in the Making is a precious diamond that endlessly sparkles among all the ash and trash that today's society advocates as important. This wonderfully refreshing written work by Ms. Smalls couldn't have come at a better time! It will surely quench the many exigencies of the morals, values, and principles, of today's society, which have unfortunately rotted from going awry for so long! As a young woman, this book has already revolutionized that way I treat each day, the way that I perceive God, and how I can improve my daily mindset! Women inevitably endure so many unfair pressures from their homes, workplaces, schools, communities, etc. This book is like a comforting, warm cup of tea that helps you feel good on the inside! The book is also divided into short chapters, so it is PERFECT for the busy person! I don't have time to read books that weigh the same as an Oxford dictionary, so I appreciate and love the length of this book, and I am able to digest the meaning of its content better! This book is not only perfect for any woman of any age, but I'm sure that men could also benefit from this read, and walk away with a wealth of truth, confidence, self-love, and peace because of this work by Ms. Smalls. :-)

God bless you, Ms. Smalls for stepping out in faith and confidence to offer affirmation to a generation hungry for truth, confidence, self-love, and peace! This book will change the world! ^_^

With purity and transparency, Isis writes this book from the bottom of her heart. It is amazing how someone so young can feel so much, and sense the presence of God so real in her life. She has the ability to convey those emotions, experiences and knowledge to her reader. Though the book was written for young girls, youth, teens and adolescents, it spoke to my heart as well and caused me to pause and think about something things going on in my life. It also brought a sense of renewal and refreshing. The book is not exactly a devotional, but it has 31 chapters, therefore, I have incorporated this book in my daily private time with God. But, please note, Beauty in the Marking is not limited to Christians, it casts a net for anyone who just want to read something that will provide rest, and at the same time offer a new vigor and energy for the mind and spirit.

As a young women coming of age, even as a Christian, my focus was on achieving. Society stressed the importance of getting into a great college, having a stellar listing of extra-curriculars and an outsized ambition. All of those things served me well, but when I think about my most valuable, my most universally profitable possession, it's my relationship with Christ. What Isis Smalls does in this book is she introduces this relationship it just as an accompaniment to help us get through life, but she challenges us to prioritize it immediately, consistently and powerfully. I can't think of a better gift for girls looking to be great and for parents determined to raise not just champions of this world, but champions of the faith. Your daughter's best life starts here.

This book is a must-have. No matter what season you may be experiencing in your life, this book will help you grow spiritually. It will motivate you daily to acknowledge and honor God's presence. It will challenge you out of your comfort zone and encourage you to take a reflective perspective about your walk with God. It reads as if you are talking to your best friend and is a refreshing supplement to your morning routine. Do yourself a favor and allow God to use Isis to bring out the Queen of God in you.

I love it . Refreshing. Funky but most importantly very easy to read with lots of good content. Made me feel like a little girl again . A little reminder that we will always be God's little girl no matter our age . Awesome book well written with love and passion. God's love .

A powerful message for girls! As a mother of two daughters ages 12 and 18, I can say that this book will bless girls of any age with practical wisdom, inspiration and encouragement to live to her full potential! Isis brings much needed insights to young women on how to live a Christ-centered life in a world where they are being bombarded by social media. Highly recommend! What a treasure!

Beauty in the Making is soul food to fill the spirit; a must read. It is a wonderfully inspiring read for women of all ages. This "good read" will leave you feeling more encouraged and blessed.

I am always looking for resources to help bring young ladies into their fullest God destiny. This is definitely a book I am adding to my collection for that purpose. It is sometimes hard to find books that young people will understand and respond to. Isis' authenticity, vulnerability and practical wisdom are precious jewels for the next generation to glean from. I highly recommend this book to any mother of daughters, mentors and teachers of young girls. It will help your young ladies create a foundation for Godly living and give them a passion to discover the purpose in which God created them. Thank you Isis for sharing your story!
